Dewitt MacKenzie Interprets Today's News From War Zones

The idea that Europe may get peace by spring keeps cropping up with such persistence both at home and abroad that one can't afford not to examine it, though none of its reincarnations thus far has disclosed the basis of the belief.

Anyway, basis or no basis, it's a grand thought and one can at least say of it what the stage magician says of his act: "It's a good trick if I do it—and it's a good trick if I don't."

Certainly if everybody thinks in terms of peace, war's end will be hastened. Moreover, it seems to me personally that an early peace isn't probable as conditions now are, yet it is possible.

I think we can go this far with wishful thinkers! Peace is not impossible for the spring. I will develop the point a bit later, but please don't say I predicted peace by spring, for I'm merely indicating possibilities.

A reminder of peace hopes came out of Washington day before yesterday. Mr. Roosevelt conferred with leaders of various churches and later one of them said the churchmen got the impression the president cherished some peace hope that "might find some practical encouragement by spring."

Subsequently the chief executive told newspapermen that he wouldn't put it quite that way. He had merely set forth ideals which

Insanity Plea is Made for Indiana Girl's Sex-Slayer

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Whether Thomas Allen Boys, 28, of Attica must stand trial for the brutal sex slaying of a pretty farm girl hinged today upon a sanity hearing in Montgomery Circuit court here.

Boys, a golf links worker, is accused of first-degree murder in the killing of Elizabeth Debriskier, 11, of near Attica last July 21. His trial is set for Jan. 22.

The hearing on his insanity plea began yesterday. His wife and three doctors expressed belief he was of unsound mind. Five other witnesses said they believed him sane.

Mrs. Boys said she believed her husband did not understand the charge against him and said he had shown remorse only once.

She identified a letter from Boys asking that she take their three young sons to Sunday school regularly and tell them about him when they were older.

Dr. Howard Kinnaman and Dr. Robert Mills of Crawfordsville, whom Judge Edgar A. Rice named to examine Boys, and Dr. Dudley T. Dawson of Sidell, Ill., hired by the defense, said they regarded Boys as insane.

Boys' family physician, Dr. Carl Freed of Attica, expressed belief the accused man was of sound mind. He said he had known Boys about 10 years.

Murphy Confirmed by Senate Sub-Committee

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee today recommended confirmation of Attorney General Frank Murphy as an associate justice of the Supreme Court, after Murphy had voluntarily appeared before the group.

The unanimous action came after Murphy had assured senators that he opposed use of force "by either side" in labor disputes and that he believed the Supreme Court has the power and duty to invalidate acts of congress when they contravene the federal constitution.

Senators Burke (D-Neb), chairman of the subcommittee, Austin (R-Vt), Connally (D-Tex) and King (D-Utah) all fired questions at Murphy about his views of the constitution and duties of a Supreme court justice.

The nomination now must be considered by the full judiciary committee, probably Monday, and then sent to the senate for expected confirmation. Murphy's appointment as attorney general a year ago was confirmed 78 to 7.

JAPAN RAPS U. S. FOR EXPANSION OF NAVAL PLANS

Report Soviet Officers Called to Face Trial For War Failures

War in Brief

(By The Associated Press) Tokyo—United States $1,300,000 naval building program draws bitter Japanese criticism.

Berlin—Official news agency reports French surprise attack broke German line, but was driven back.

London—German air raiders reported driven off Firth of Forth; Britain acknowledges loss of one plane in yesterday's battle (Nazis claim three downed).

Copenhagen—Finnish reports say another Russian division is surrounded on east central front.

Paris—Increased air activity on eastern front; two German planes downed.

Stockholm—Sweden sets up $200,000 war budget.

(By The Associated Press) The United States program for extensive naval construction in the face of troubled world conditions, with wars current in Finland, China and on the western front, today drew bitter criticism from Japan.

One Japanese newspaper, in a tone adopted by other papers and spokesmen, spoke of "The American Menace" in discussing the $1,300,000 naval building program now under consideration by Congress.

Ignoring the fact that Japan's denunciation of the Washington naval treaty in 1936 opened the way for a building race, a Japanese naval spokesman asserted that the new program would spur Japan to a naval construction contest with the United States.

"The United States has merely indicated in undisguised terms its glaring hostility toward Japan," said the newspaper Nichi Nichi.

The navy's request for $4,000,000 to develop Guam harbor drew representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees & Moving Picture Machine Operators, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on income tax evasion charges at Los Angeles.

Attorneys here said it now becomes discretionary with the California governor whether to honor or Horner's requisition.

"Granny's" Church

Dogtown, Ala., Jan. 11.—(AP)—When Mandy Graham, 92-year-old farm wife, became too feeble to walk to church, she built a frame chapel in her back yard and now the preachers and congregation come to her.

"Granny," as she is known, has built up a regular congregation at her church. She has no permanent pastor but invites preachers of various denominations. Denomination never meant much to "Granny."

"Church folks," she said, "are all heading for the same place. They're just traveling different roads."

Horner Requests Extradition for Calif. Agitator

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—(AP) Gov. Henry Horner announced today he would sign a requisition for the extradition from California of William Bifford, west coast motion picture labor leader.

The requisition, which the governor said he would sign later today, would be a formal request that Gov. Culbert L. Olson of California issue an extradition warrant for Bifford's return to Chicago to serve a six month jail term for pandering imposed in 1922.

Horner characterized the Bifford case as "unique and unusual" and said in a statement "I am of the opinion that the unexplained and apparently inexcusable delay or negligence of the law enforcing officials should not exempt the defendant from paying the penalty of the law for his crime."

Would Like Explanation

"When the requisition I shall issue today to the governor of California is honored," Horner's statement continued, "I suggest that he be given an opportunity to relate before a grand jury how he has been able to evade for 17 years the serving of his sentence."

Bifford, 41, now Hollywood representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees & Moving Picture Machine Operators, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on income tax evasion charges at Los Angeles.

Attorneys here said it now becomes discretionary with the California governor whether to honor or Horner's requisition.

Uncle Sam's Spending Near Twice His Income

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Federal expenditures for this fiscal year have passed $5,000,000,000.

The German planes apparently trying to British forays over the northwestern German coast yesterday, were driven off when they appeared over the Thames and Humber estuaries and the Firth of Forth. No bombs were dropped.

Norwegian and Finnish quarters heard from numerous sources that more than 100 Soviet officers had been called back from the Finnish front to face trial because of the Red army's failure to make greater progress after six weeks of fighting Finland.

The Russian supply commissariat was said to be under special scrutiny. There was no confirmation of the reports of the shake-up, however.

Report Russian Attacks

Finland reported Russian attacks, launched after Soviet artillery preparation, had been repulsed on the eastern and extreme northern fronts. Otherwise, the Finns said, there were no developments in the northern war.

The official German news agency, D.N.B., described new western front fighting in which a French detachment succeeded in breaking through German positions near Saarbruecken. The French soon were driven back, the agency said, leaving dead, wounded and prisoners.

Meanderings of Wabash River Have Created Four Bits 'No Man's Land'

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—(AP)—William H. Treadway, secretary of the Indiana Commission on Interstate Co-operation, said last night he would ask a similar Illinois commission to negotiate the status of inhabitants and property on four pieces of "No Man's Land" created by meanderings of the Wabash river.

Vagaries of the channel have left two pieces of theoretical Indiana land on the Illinois side of the river and two pieces of Illinois land on the Indiana side, Treadway said. The stream at those places has changed its course since the center of the channel was established as the Posey county. The Illinois tracts cut off by the river adjoin

BRAKEMAN FALLS TO DEATH TODAY IN NELSON YARDS

Harry M. Hillis, 47, of Chicago Cut in Two by Moving Train

Harry M. Hillis, 47, 4548 North Paulina street, Chicago, brakeman on an east-bound Chicago & North Western freight train, was instantly killed this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Nelson yards when he slipped on the ice-covered deck of a flat car, falling beneath the wheels of another car of the slowly moving train. His body was severed and horribly mangled.

Conductor C. R. Vogel of Chicago, who is charge of the Clinton-Chicago freight train, and Charles Filippi, track laborer, were witnesses to the tragedy. Conductor Vogel was standing about one car length from the scene when Hillis fell between the car and signalled Engineer O. Allen, who stopped the train.

Inquest Tomorrow

The train was switching in the south yards preparatory to proceeding east, and was moving slowly when the brakeman fell. The deck of the car on which Hillis was standing, was covered with ice and it was reported that a sudden jerk of the car caused him to slip and fall. His body landed across a rail and the car next to the gondola passed over him.

Dr. Kenyon B. Segner, coroner, was notified at once and went to the scene where he conducted an investigation, and ordered the removal of the body to the Staples mortuary in this city. A jury was empaneled at 1 o'clock this afternoon and viewed the remains, the inquest having been recessed until 11 o'clock Friday morning. It was expected that the body would be taken to Chicago late this afternoon.

Motorists Warned

The state highway department today warned motorists to use extreme caution in traveling on all highways in the Dixon district, where a packed snow and ice one-quarter to one-half inch thick covered the paved routes. Traffic was hazardous, not only in the northern section of the state but the condition was reported to extend south as far as the Springfield district.

In Dixon this morning, the streets were blanketed with ice and traffic was slowed down. Trucks experienced the worst difficulty, particularly on Galena avenue where they were unable to negotiate the grade until after 8 o'clock when the street department scattered cinders at all intersections and on the hills. Traffic moved cautiously, however, and no serious accidents were reported.

Fight Over Dodge Estate Heads For Another Tribunal

Detroit, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The fight over the $11,000,000 estate of Daniel Dodge, with the ink hardly dry on one court's verdict, headed toward another tribunal today and a new chapter in the family dispute over its automobile fortune.

Counsel for two of Daniel's sisters—Mrs. Isabel Sloane and Mrs. Winifred Seyburn—prepared to appeal to Circuit court the verdict of Probate Judge Thomas C. Murphy under which Daniel's widow, Annie Laurine, receives $125,000.

Charles Wright, Jr., attorney for the two sisters, announced he would appeal within 20 days. Renville Wheat, attorney for a third sister, Mrs. Frances Johnson, was undecided whether to appeal.

A new suit thus will involve mother, daughter-in-law, and two daughters in the continuing series of court fights over the $40,000,000 left by the late John F. Dodge, pioneer motorcar manufacturer.

In his verdict yesterday Judge Murphy, while making no mention of sums for each beneficiary, ruled that the $11,000,000 belonged to Dodge's estate and should be distributed in accordance with his will.

The verdict, in effect, gives Annie Laurine Dodge, 21, whose former switchboard job paid her $18 a week, the sum of $125,000 and Daniel's mother, Mrs. Mathilda R. Wilson, approximately $3,500,000. The state and Federal governments receive $6,000,000 in taxes.

Surviving are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Charles Curran of this city, Miss Ruth of Chicago and Floyd and Byron of Dixon. One sister, Mrs. Mary Pennebaker of Chicago, also survives with several more distant relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services will be held at the Jones funeral home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 at St. Patrick's Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh officiating. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery at Sterling.

Telephone Companies Can Refuse to Give Service to Bookies

Los Angeles, Jan. 11—(AP)—A Superior court decision here upholding the right of a telephone company to discontinue service to persons accused of giving horse race information to bookmakers may stir action in other states.

"This is a salutary decision," declared Samuel Klaus, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, "and will go long way in aiding the Federal government in its fight against this kind of racket."

Klaus said he was forwarding copies of the decision to Federal officials dealing with similar cases in Florida and Illinois.

Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson yesterday dissolved a temporary order granted Russell Brophy and Leonard J. Nevans, publishers of a racing "scratch sheet," restraining the Southern California Telephone Co., from discontinuing service to them.

Hull Defends Treaties in Letter to Committee

Chicago, Jan. 11—(AP)—An order confirming reorganization of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad was signed yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes.

The road has been in bankruptcy since April 18, 1933. A board of managers will direct its operation under a new charter as provided for in the order.

Benjamin Wham, trustee, said that a "couple of months" would be required to obtain a charter, draft by-laws and work out other financial and legal details.

He added that the action meant that the C. & E. I. would be the first class one railroad to emerge from reorganization proceedings under section 77 of the amended bankruptcy act.

New York, Jan. 11—(AP)—The will of the 69-year-old utilities magnate, who died Dec. 26 in Philadelphia, was filed for probate today. It was brief and the only beneficiary listed was Mrs. Grace Doherty, the widow.

There was no value placed upon the estate, other than the usual formal declaration that it was "more than $10,000." An appraisal for tax transfer purposes will be made later.

Post-Nuptial Shower

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—Representative Secret (D.-Ohio) forecast today that Congress would handle flood control legislation as part of the national defense program and increase sharply the budget recommendations of President Roosevelt.

Secret, member of the House flood control committee, recalled that Congress appropriated $131,000,000 for general flood control, exclusive of the Mississippi valley, last year. The President recommended an appropriation of $70,000,000 for the 1941 fiscal year beginning next July.

"In my opinion" said Secret in an interview, "this will be increased substantially because flood control is just as much a part of national defense as is the construction of ships and military operations.

"Flood control appropriations should be increased even if it is necessary to cut down other appropriations."

Woman's Death Plunge Fatal to Floorwalker

Chicago, Jan. 11—(AP)—Two persons died yesterday as the result of a woman's plunge from the seventh floor railing of the Marshall Field department store.

Several customers standing nearby escaped injury. A woman clerk fainted.

Howard S. Cook of Evanston, father of Mrs. Robbins, said she had suffered a nervous breakdown after the birth of her baby a month ago.

Youth Citizenship Forum Meets Sunday

A meeting of representative young people of the various communities of Lee county, including the youth groups of the churches of Dixon, will be held in the First Methodist church of Dixon next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. The meeting will be in charge of the Rev. H. H. Donnenwirth and Geo. B. Robinson, Sr., state director and associate respectively of the Youth Citizenship Movement of Illinois.

Finance Director S. L. Nudelman reported that present old age assistance requirements are reducing the treasury surplus at the rate of $1,000,000 a month. He said new taxes would be necessary if maximum pension payments are raised from $30 to $40 monthly at the special session of the legislature.

The governor, who favors an oil severance tax, declared the rate of tax would be left to the legislature. Some administration leaders, however, say the tax may have to be five per cent to raise sufficient funds, if no other taxes are employed.

The Youth Citizenship Movement is a newly inaugurated educational program in scientific alcohol education being carried on by the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois.

The movement is on a county-wide basis with intensive initial programs already completed in four counties and a schedule which will include the entire state.

During the past week its leaders have given their lectures and visual aids in nearly every high school and larger grade schools in Lee county as well as speaking in several of the more important churches.

Next Sunday they will speak in several additional churches, including Grace Evangelical and First Methodist churches of Dixon.

The gifts were cleverly arranged under an umbrella, in a wagon, both being attractively decorated in pink, white and green. Out of town guests were Mrs. Ernest Norris of Polo and Mrs. Floyd Henry of Dixon.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to sur- render their interests." From the Farewell Address.

AVIATION HAS A BIG YEAR

It's as safe in an airliner these days as it is in a baby's crib. Or at least it was during 1939, according to a fistful of heartening statistics released by the Air Transport Association of America.

Domestic airlines carried 1,400,000 persons over a total of 620,000,000 passenger miles without even scratching the nose of a single person. Col. Edgar S. Gorrell, president of the Air Transport Association, was probably right when he said that this was the "greatest increase in safe travel of any class of passenger service for any similar period in the history of transportation in the United States."

The safety record becomes even more remarkable in view of the fact that the number of passenger miles flown both by domestic and international lines originating in this country increased from 635,000,000 in 1938 to 880,000,000 last year. Mail and express shipments also increased, according to the report.

The increase in passenger travel is directly linked to the enviable safety record set by commercial pilots, mechanics and all others who are responsible for the safe flight of transport planes. The increased enthusiasm for air travel enabled airline executives to dip into the black ink bottle again for the first time in several years. For the past several years, airlines have been operating at a net annual loss of $2,000,000, Colonel Gorrell said.

It is also true that the confidence of the public in air transportation is making it possible for airlines to rely less on mail contracts and express business and more on passenger services. Only five years ago, about 70 per cent of the business handled by transport ships included mail and express shipments, and passenger service comprised only 30 per cent. Last year, 60 per cent of the commerce handled by commercial aviation firms was in the form of human cargo.

While safety played a prime part in vitalizing passenger business, the airline firms also bestow a certain amount of deserved credit upon the smooth functioning of the Civil Aeronautics Act and on the Air Traffic Conference which opened up a system of co-ordination among the various lines.

Aviation is still a growing industry. No one would contend that it has reached the peak of its efficiency, the pinnacle of its ability to serve the public. Fifteen years ago there was no scheduled passenger service. Twenty-five years ago, most people still regarded the flying machine as something with which only a fool would play.

Yet, despite its comparative youth, aviation has already set a record which no other mode of transportation can claim. There were airplane accidents in this country in 1939. But they did not happen to the trained pilots of the transport companies. The airlines have proved that, given good equipment, and expert personnel, there need be no fear of accidents. It is the best kind of publicity aviation can possibly get.

ALL VIOLENCE TO BE CONDEMNED

Reports from the south indicate that only three lynchings took place in Dixie during 1939, a remarkable reduction from the sixteen reported only a few years ago. Previous to the World War they were much more numerous. Widespread publicity did as much as anything to end them.

For some years the Congress has been toying with proposals to enact laws penalizing counties where lynchings occur. Congressmen from the south have opposed the idea vigorously on the ground that such activity would be an invasion of states' rights simultaneously these congressmen have done whatever they could to see that prisoners are given fair trials and punishment according to law, when guilty.

Violence by the mob in any community, north or south, is to be condemned. In the industrial north we are more prone to violence of another kind. This much is to be said for the south and its lynchings: In most cases the victim is at least accused of a crime. In the north men have been murdered with blackjacks, machine-gunned or have had their homes bombed merely for the "offense" of wanting to work.

Just why Congress should be beset with legislation of doubtful constitutionality in order to protect men accused of crimes in the south, while little or nothing is done for the protection of northerners who simply wish to work without paying tribute to some labor czar is hard to understand.

If a federal law against mob violence is enacted at all, it should protect all potential victims of violence.

LAST PROUD STAND

The broad Canadian province of Manitoba may easily become the last, firm stronghold of the horse. The horse has been slipping on the North American continent ever since the automobile took over. So, for gentlemen of the Old School, it must be comforting to realize that in Manitoba, 89 per cent of the farmers still rely on horses.

The province has 315,000 horses of all varieties, but they are not of the kind race track addicts know. These farm horses are of the working class—the kind that dragged our own pioneers westward and then helped them start their farms not so very many years ago. The farmers of Manitoba are still faithful to the horse, and old-timers will be glad.

But noble sentiments probably have nothing to do with the situation in Canada. Farmers there are just as anxious to acquire tractors and automobiles as farmers anywhere are. The trouble is crops haven't been too good in late years. When they were good, prices weren't right. Now things look better for Canadian farmers. The fall crop was better and war shot prices up. If this keeps up, perhaps even the Manitoba farmers will trade in Old Dobbins for a tractor.

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH, DIXON, ILL., THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 11, 1940

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Jan. 10.—Mr. Morgenthau's sleeve was shaken gently at a Philadelphia meeting recently and out dropped twelve billion yes sir, B-for-big) dollars, few knew he had.

This unsleaving of the treasury and exposure of money-magic devices it could perform any day was ably presented in an unreported speech to the American Statistical Association by Professor Lawrence H. Seltzer of Wayne University, Detroit. Professor Seltzer worked in treasury research until a few months ago and hence shook with authority.

He did not seek to make an example. He was arguing what could be done about excess bank reserves and he wanted the treasury to issue a new kind of bonds of fixed value to banks. But in doing this, he showed how the treasury could raise exactly $12,800,000,000 out of thin air to reduce the public debt or provide money for expenditures without going beyond the $45,000,000,000 statutory limit which is causing all the current dispute.

Behind Mr. Morgenthau's cuff, Professor Seltzer found the following powers to conjure money in the following amounts:

Use the stabilization fund to purchase government securities, $2,000,000,000; revalue silver at $1.29 cents an ounce for $1,500,000; raise monetary value of silver to $2.19 (the same percentage of increase as was made in gold) with a profit of $2,300,000; devalue the gold dollar 9 cents more, $3,100,000,000; increase the value of silver to a 16 to 1 ratio, $1,000,000,000; issue Thomas currency to buy bonds, $3,000,000,000—total $12,800,000,000.

Other fresh and sensational figures disclosed in the Seltzer paper:

There is now $3,000,000,000 more money in circulation than in 1929.

The United States is likely to absorb practically all the monetary gold in the world.

Our gold stock is now 2½ times what it was six years ago in volume and worth four times as much under the artificially maintained price.

Bulk of additional monetary gold ($1,300,000,000) will soon flow into the U. S. on either trade or capital accounts (war buying.)

Excess reserves in banks have increased in 6 years more than 6 times. Existing reserves are enough to provide a $30,000,000,000 credit expansion.

Seventy-one per cent of the people's deposits with banks are invested in government bonds.

Sixty per cent of the earnings of banks today comes from government interest on these bonds.

Note—Professor Seltzer's proposed bonds would be somewhat like baby bonds, issued to banks; non-transferable, with an indefinite maturity date, redeemable on four months notice, bearing an interest rate of 1½ per cent. Apparently the treasury will try these only if the present method of debt financing becomes difficult.

Federal tax collectors have quietly been made spying agents for the wage-hour administration. Internal revenue bureau has cautioned its agents not to divulge the fact, but has instructed them to examine all social security returns for evidence of wage-hour tax violations.

Employers pay 1 per cent on wages for old age benefits. On the assumption that employees work the maximum hours allowable under the act, internal revenue agents can make a fairly good guess on whether the employer is violating the wage-hour law.

The king is supposed to be gone in the justice department but the new king's friends are getting a little impatient over the delay in transportation of the corpus delicti to the Supreme Court bench. Supreme Court Justice-designate Murphy has announced he will stay on as attorney general for about 30 days to conclude pending technical reforms. Meanwhile new Attorney General Bob Jackson is figuratively being kept waiting at the door of his new office, wondering when he will get in. Jackson undoubtedly will approve Murphy's reforms, but a 30 days hiatus has resulted.

Total amount of debts of all kinds in the United States is $281,000,000,000, total wealth of all kinds is estimated at $300,000,000,000.

One Is Beloved
BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCKChapter 34
DEATH

Behind her Sue heard Bob come in. "Just a minute, Forest," she said. With her hand over the transmitter she explained swiftly: "It's Forest Webb calling from New York, Bob. He says Pats is—well, dying. She wants me to come. What shall I tell him?"

"Let me tell to him!" was the brief answer.

Three minutes later he put the telephone in its cradle.

"I promise you shall go home, I hope it's all right. It seemed to be decent somehow since she's so set on it."

"But do you thing she's rational, Bob? She can't be—to want me to come. There's nothing Pats can have to say to me. If it were Alien now."

"Maybe Alien is on his way there," her husband suggested. "Shall I find out?"

Sue nodded, and Bob put in the call.

"Evidently he knows nothing of Pats' illness," he informed her at last. "I suppose you'd better fly, Sue. I'll call Kansas City and find out when the next plane goes."

She raised darkly unhappy eyes to his. "Somehow I have a feeling it's wrong for me to go, Bob."

"I expect it's the thought of leaving the children." He smiled at her reassuringly. Faced with the need for making plans for her, Bob was as kind as and more resourceful self.

Pack what you need. Remember to keep down the weight of your bag. I'll have to drive to Kansas City. I suppose, I'll call now and find out."

Dazedly she put on a dark blue swiss with white organdy collar and cuffs. A light silk traveling coat, a small close-fitting bat, the expensive dressing bag containing everything she needed, which had been Bob's last year's birthday present, a pair of loose soft gloves . . . her preparations were made by the time Bob had secured his information.

"Robert, listen!" She knelt and took the little boy in the circle of her arms. "I'll talk to Selma before I go, but I want to put Sister in your care. Promise me—promise me, my own boy, that you'll look after her!" And, Susan, you're to do what brother tells you. If you don't want to, do it anyway, and then talk to Dad about it when he comes home. But obey him promptly!"

She was in the car beside Bob, giving him last directions, she said to him. "I'll talk to Selma before I go, but I want to put Sister in your care. Promise me—promise me, my own boy, that you'll look after her!" And, Susan, you're to do what brother tells you. If you don't want to, do it anyway, and then talk to Dad about it when he comes home. But obey him promptly!"

It required nearly an hour of coaxing to get him to bed. Sue promised to see the undertaker, she promised to call Barbara, she promised to send wires to Pats' sisters. She alternated an attitude of firmness with pleading, and at last he stumbled wearily away, to sleep for several hours, then start up, calling Pats' name.

Family Reunion

On Sunday, Jan. 7, a family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry, Sr. The occasion was also the birthday anniversary of Elliott Henry and Beatrice Chaon. Thirty-three relatives and friends gathered at the Henry home for a scramble dinner and supper for the event.

Those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry, Sr., Mrs. Yvonne Prestegard and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vickrey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hermann, daughter, Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Landgraf.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Spanier, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoeger and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kolanicki of Mendota; Elliott, Henry and Paul Cupta of Peru; Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Chaon and daughters Paula and Donna of Sublette; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chaon, Beatrice Marjorie, Cletus and Arthur Chaon of Compton; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herman, F. W. Meyer and Jack Conshack of West Brooklyn.

Now the skin was a waxy yellow, with deep pouches beneath the sunken eyes. Though she was but a year or two older than Sue, her neck was corded like that of an old woman. Her nails—those shining ovals the care of which was almost a religion with their owner—were bitten down to the quick. Sue held back a shudder as she looked at them.

No accident this, but a lingering illness which had drained Pats of everything. No, not everything, for while Forest Webb whose love of the beautiful was almost an obsession, could hang above his wife incessantly crying her name!

The doctor came, the stimulant was administered, Pats layed for a few minutes, muttered thickly, lapsed into coma again. Forest renewed his frantic plea for recognition. The physician touched his arm.

"It's not the slightest use, Mr. Webb," he said kindly. "I doubt if she ever regains consciousness again. She may linger on like this for hours, even for days, but she'll not rouse again. Believe me, it's better so. Hard for you but better for her!"

The long day wore on. A nurse took Sue to a room across the corridor, brought her a meal on a tray.

"What is it?" Sue asked her. "My brother was her first husband. Mr. Webb sent for me to come. I know absolutely nothing beyond the fact that she is dying. It is it cancer?"

The nurse shook her head. "No, I'm thankful to say, Peritonitis. She's only been ill six days."

Sue was incredulous. "Six days? And she looks like that?"

and August Bettner in 500. In eulogy, Mrs. Ermin Dinges, Miss Fay Danekas, Floyd Delnoy and Bob Horton. The committee for this Sunday evening will include: Mrs. Eliza Gorant, Miss Georgene Genant, Mrs. Joseph Ege and Mrs. Amel Vincent. Joseph Ege won the door prize.

Just when it appears that the local industrial league is going to seed, along comes a game like the opener at the high school last night, an enthusiasm gets a tonic. But then along comes a game like the nightcap and everyone wonders what's to be done to revive the circuit.

The veteran Mel Harder, afflicted with a lame salary wing the first two months last season, and Al Milnar, then just an untried southpaw with lots of stuff and no control, pointed to themselves as two of the reasons.

Other factors, the hurlers said, are Lou Boudreau, a newcomer making the grade in the Indians' perennial gap at shortstop; Oscar Grimes, infield handy-man, and Ray Mack, second baseman.

Three times a week Harder and Milnar work out on a program designed to help each produce 20 victories.

"We have a good chance of winning if we get a few breaks," declared Milnar, perspiring from a game of handball.

Declared Harder: "I'm going to do everything in the world to get myself in shape the start of this season. I cut loose too soon last year."

Harness Horse Racers Look to 1940 With Hope

BY DUNBAR BOSTWICK
Treasurer, The United States Trotting Association

New York, Jan. 11. (AP)—Owners and breeders of harness horses are looking forward hopefully to the 1940 racing season.

Several spring circuits such as the Ohio Short Ship, the Pennsylvania and Tri-State Circuit in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa will be in full force by the end of May. A new circuit is being formed with headquarters at Washington, Pa., and will offer 10 weeks of good racing in that area. The Kansas and Oklahoma circuit had its best season in 1939 and is looking forward to an even better one this year.

The grand circuit should have a better year than ever, due to the fact that the Trotting Horse Club of America is sponsoring 10 new stakes for second flight two and three-year-old trotters and pacers. It also is starting a series of ten $10,000 (estimate) races for trotters and pacers on the proposed plan, classified by the net money won.

Four Divisions

Each race will be divided into four divisions which means that every horse at the track will have a chance to start in a race for a better than average purse. Within a doubt the peak of the season again will be at Goshen on Aug. 14, when the $10,000 Hambletonian for three-year-old trotters will be renewed.

Court Approves Claim Filed Against State by Elgin Butter Company

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11—(AP)—A conference next weekend between Governor Horner and Lieutenant Governor John Stelle was arranged today, raising the possibility of early settlement of the question whether there will be a Democratic "harmony" ticket in the field for the April 9 primary.

The northern carriers filed a petition with the ICC today asking a postponement of at least 60 days from February 1 in the effective date of the commission's order.

They added that they were preparing a petition asking reopening, reconsideration and reargument of the entire proceeding.

By a 5 to 4 decision, the ICC, largely upholding the south, adopted a general principle that reasonably uniform rates should prevail from producing sections to common markets. The south long has contended that it has been retarded economically by "artificial freight rate barriers."

The court held the company complied with Chicago milk regulations in effect when the contract was signed and lost its license only because the board of health decided not to license pasteurization plants outside of Cook county. The court's award recommends will be included in an appropriation bill to go before the next session of the legislature.

SEEK POSTMASTERSHIP

Washington, Jan. 11—(AP)—The Civil Service Commission announced today receipt of applications for the postmastership at Rockford Ill., as follows: Ralph C. Tallmadge, Lawrence P. Luby, Harold C. Vollmann, Paul A. Keri, Edward T. O'Shay, Franklin N. Bell, Arthur A. Thorsell, Leo Alva Driscoll, Gordon P. Hammond, Arthur Duane Logan, Walter R. Borman, Olof M. Krantz, Kenneth S. Cook, Delbert E. Remsen and William H. Heffernan.

To minimize danger, automobile brakes should be applied easily and steadily in event of a tire blowout, instead of putting full force upon them.

SANTA CLAUS" DIES

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Jan. 11—(AP)—Santa Claus lost one of his most regular helpers in the death last night of George E. Green, 71, retired merchant and former city clerk.

For 31 consecutive years Green had been Santa Claus at Christmas parties sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Elks club for indigent children.

Coexist City, Township Limits Puzzle Alton

Edwardsville, Ill., Jan. 11—(AP)—What is the legally constituted township board where the limits of a township and a city are coextensive?

The city of Alton, one of several in Illinois comprising an entire township, has asked that question in an quo warranto suit on the docket for trial in circuit court to-day.

The problem in Alton arose over the administration of relief.

Beginning in 1936, when the state legislature returned relief administration to the townships, the city council had acted as ex officio township board in overseeing relief expenditures.

Last September, Supervisor Louis E. Walter, the township relief administrator, broke with the city council and revived the old township board with himself, the five justices of the peace and the city clerk as members. This board has been meeting twice monthly to pass on bills for relief and administration.

Walter, claiming a small balance in relief funds in possession of the city, filed suit in circuit court for the amount. The city responded with the quo warranto suit asking the court to decide whether the council or the board has authority over relief.

000,000 in additional taxes probably would be developed after Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) consults the house ways and means committee, Harrison consults the senate finance committee, and both confer with the president and Secretary Morgenthau.

Mathematically Simple

Officials said that the president virtually eliminated all but income tax sources for new revenues when he specified that the new taxes ought to be "according to ability to pay and avoid taxes which decrease consumer purchasing power."

He was represented as hating the super-tax idea particularly because of its mathematical simplicity. It involves no complicated changes in tax rates. If a corporation calculated its income tax at present rates to be $1,000, it would know immediately that its tax under the proposed law would total $1,100.

The budget also has caused some officials to wonder whether the time might be ripe for broadening the income tax base, a project previously endorsed in principle and rejected as impractical by many treasury officials and the president himself. This would involve lower exemptions and higher rates for persons in the lower and middle income brackets.

The conference would be the first face to face meeting between the governor and Lieutenant Governor since last June, before Horner went to Highland Park for rest and recuperation from illness.

Whether Horner would support Stelle for renomination has been one of the big questions of the primary campaign. The governor has made no commitment on this point, while Stelle, some time ago made known informally his wish to seek another term.

Authorized spokesmen for Stelle issued a statement that he would contest any attempt to "purge" him. There has been unofficial talk too that Stelle might make a primary race for the harmony ticket if a harmony ticket isn't arranged.

Man and Wife Held to Grand Jury for Murder

Chicago, Jan. 11—(AP)—A coroner's jury today recommended that Sam Delao, 49, and his wife, Cleo Alice, be held to the grand jury for the slaying of Mrs. Helen J. Sharp, 65, her mother.

Delao did not testify at the inquest, but previously he had told the police that he had beaten the aged woman to death on Jan. 4 with a hammer because she nagged him. Police Captain John Cartan said Delao, a junk peddler, told him he then jammed the body into a trunk and hauled it to a southside alley, where it was found the next day.

The wife denied at the inquest that she had participated in the killing and declared Delao threatened to kill her when she saw him beat her mother.

First Blast for Mine

Chicago, Jan. 11—(AP)—The blast, possibly West Virginia's worst mine disaster in more than a decade, is the first to occur at the Bartley No. 1 which has been operating since early 1929 in one of the busiest and richest coal sections of the state. The mine normally employs 250 and is located on a hill above Dry Fork river 140 miles south of Charleston.

Entries fan out from the shaft on the western side the tunnel leaves the foot of the shaft and runs back several thousand feet then branches. Stigfiss fixed the possible location of the explosion in the "Main 6" head, from which "four left" branches.

"Twenty-five men in the fourth left have a better chance than any others, providing the explosion occurred in main 6, and indications are that is true," said the inspector.

J. J. Hammond, company official, expressed the hope that at least 40 men were in sections not badly damaged and that they might have survived.

It was after midnight before authorities could give out a tentative list of those trapped. The number of miners on the day shift in the affected areas at one time ranged up to 95 but hours of checking cut the figure to 91, two of them being found dead.

Lights glowed all night anastomosing strong wires about the shaft mouth. State troopers kept the crowd from the entrance. Red Cross workers had coffee and food on hand for rescue crews when they came out to rest. Six ambulances were standing by in eight days and in the others within 12 days.

The anesthetic's healing action was attributed to its interruption of nervous impulses causing constriction of blood vessels, thereby re-establishing the normal exchange of fluids inside and around the inflamed vein.

Weekly Food and Marketing
Letter by Mrs. Emily Lautz
for Dixon Telegraph Readers

January is the traditional month to rest up from the holidays—and to take inventory. Synonymous with this annual check-up is the inviting headline "January White Sales."

Few homemakers have sales resistance, especially when real necessities are advertised at tempting reductions. This month finds bargains aplenty with which to replenish the gaps in the linen supply.

Before "happening" into a sale, or setting forth on a genuine shopping expedition, make a systematic check-up of kitchen and bathroom towels, and linens on hand for the dining room and bedroom. Often great savings are carefully boxed until such an inventory brings them to light again.

The systematic shopper is a boon to the weary clerk, too, for she will have noted exact sizes wanted in sheets, pillowslips, dinner cloths and so on. A clerk in a busy store is authority for the statement that more than 50 per cent of the shoppers are not certain of the measurements of household supplies handled daily. One line of muslin sheets wears convenient little tabs indicating the width and length, and the size of bed which it best fits.

So much "white merchandise" is displayed every January that the thrifty buyer must be absolutely certain that it is getting quality and serviceability at the bargain price. Otherwise there is no profit in buying flimsy sheets and towels that soon wear out.

Four sheets a bed and three cases a pillow are as small a wardrobe as it is comfortable to have, for special needs, or unexpected delay in laundering, make this a close margin. All sheets should be at least 108 inches long. This is the torn length. All experts agree about the importance of buying long sheets. At first short sheet might seem good economy, but more actual wear is inflicted on it because it is likely to pull out of position and to be twisted continually by the sleepers. Moreover, a short sheet does not protect blankets.

Buy percale, heavy muslin, or light muslin sheets. Heavy muslin is the standby for the woman who wants the utmost in service at moderate cost. Muslin is the heavier material, and at its best, achieves a soft, smooth texture.

Percale is finer and in some of its grades produces sheets of a distinctly luxury type, appealing to consumers to whom price is not important, nor durability a major concern.

Both in muslin and percale, merchandise is to be avoided which is loosely woven and has an irregular, lumpy thread. Cheap sheets often are heavily filled with starch in order to enhance their appearance on the counter. When the starch washes out, as it must do, the sheets will show up in their true character, sleazy and perishable.

One dependable New England manufacturer declares that five years is not too long a term of service to demand from the best (in the sense of the strongest) sheets and cases, if they are used discreetly in a private family. The type he referred to is heavy muslin in which the substantial threads are woven close together in both warp and filling. Yet the sheet has a soft, smooth texture.

A pure white color is a desirable attribute in white bed clothing. If the linens appear to have a yellow cast, it has not been properly bleached and will tend to become more and more yellow.

Each year sees intelligent practical developments in household linens. One manufacturing firm is strengthening its percale sheets down the center fold, where the first evidences of wear often manifest themselves. Another manufacturer edges his sheets with a double-tape selvage, believing that edges are the vulnerable places. All sheets should be sanforized-shrunk.

Quality for pillowcases is equally important. The size required depends on the measurement of the pillows. Measure the pillows carefully. A pillow that is twenty inches wide and is forty inches around needs a forty-two inch case. The length of the case should extend several inches beyond the end of the pillow. A case that is too tight makes a pillow hard. A very loose case results in an almost total loss of shape in the pillow. Convenient covers that snap on the pillow will protect the ticking, or worn cases may be basted on for this purpose.

There is much to be said also about care in buying towels. A few simple tests will help the average shopper. Hold the towel to the light, pull it between the thumbs and shake it. Next examine the selvage and the hem. Finally, read the label. A manufacturer who is proud of his product attaches three holes of light. No streaks nor gaps of light should show through the looped nap or underwear.

Part the nap next, and scratch the towel along a lengthwise thread. There should be almost no slippage. Then press the two thumbs about an inch apart on the surface of the towel and pull straight out, first the warp way, then the filling way. If the towel is sleazy, the tester will feel an instant "give".

As for the shaking test, if the towel is firmly woven, it will give a dull sound. If it is thin, it will snap.

Bath towels tear first at the hem or selvage. Low-priced towels often are woven on wide looms, then cut apart lengthwise. This edge may be unsatisfactory.

Nelke's first is as satisfactory as the wrapped selvage.

As in other buying, the home-made will find that her most satisfactory "white sales" bargains may be found in a dependable store that handles well-known brands of reputable manufacturers.
